SATURDAY MORNING, SEPTEMBER 8.

To the Public.

THE SENTINEL, having double the circulation IN THE CITY, and more than treble out of it, of any other paper here, renders it far the cheapest and most desirable medium in Milwaukee for all classes of Advertisements.

EVERY BUSINESS MAN who consults his own interest, will keep himself of the columns of THE DAILY SENTINEL,—especially when he can do so at the same prices charged by other papers, and secure more than double the advantage of circulation.

This is no boast, but EVERY WORD TRUE.

VERMONT LEADS THE COLUMN!

The GREEN MOUNTAIN STATE, true to her ancient faith and the traditions of her Revolutionary Fathers, opened the Fall Campaign, in glorious style, on Monday last. The Republicans elect their Governor by some twenty two thousand majority; re-elect all their Members of Congress by increased majorities; carry the Senate unanimously, and a proportion of ten to one in the House. The Sham Democracy, in view of the approaching Presidential election, and the fact that Vermont is the birth place of DOUGLAS, made extra efforts to present a good front; but they are more ignominiously beaten than ever before. MAINE speaks next.

Third District Republican Convention.

The Republican Convention, on Wednesday last, to nominate a candidate for Congress, was fully attended and its proceedings entirely harmonious. Our readers are already apprised of the result—the nomination of Judge A. SCOTT SLOAN. It was entirely satisfactory to the Convention and is well received throughout the District. Judge SLOAN, in accepting the nomination, avowed his intention of making a thorough canvass of the District, and he will do it.

In the evening there was a grand gathering of the Wide-Awakes from Ripon and the neighboring towns. The display was a handsome one; the attendance very large, and the enthusiasm of the crowd a pleasant thing to see. During the afternoon and evening, capital speeches were made by Gov. RANDALL, Secretary HARVEY, Senator DOOLITTLE, Judge SLOAN and other gentlemen.

The campaign in the Third District opens auspiciously. Diligent work, united efforts and a thorough organization will secure the victory! Let the Republicans of the Third District bear this in mind and take hold in earnest. They have just two months in which to redeem the District, and "where there's a will, there's a way."

THE OLD GAME.—In 1856, New York money was poured out like water to carry Pennsylvania for the Democratic party, and it appears that the same expedient is to be resorted to this year. It is reported that on Saturday evening there was a meeting of wealthy Democrats in New York, when one hundred thousand dollars were contributed for the purpose of influencing the Pennsylvania State election in October—precisely the line of tactics pursued in the former case, when everything was brought to bear on the State election for the sake of its effect on public opinion. It is really time to reprint the President's famous Du Quesne letter, deploring the use of money at elections Possibly, too, some of the evidence before the Covode committee, as to the use of that money, might now be in good time.

OUR DEMOCRATIC FRIEND MAT. H. CARPENTER delivered a speech in Beloit, last Saturday, which is thus spoken of by the Beloit Courier:

"But perhaps Mr. Carpenter's happiest jest was that of claiming that Douglas Democracy has Jefferson to its father. We would not speak jestingly of the dead, and more particularly of the departed fathers of the Republic. But we cannot help observing that this claim is a good joke on Jefferson, doubtless so considered by Mr. Carpenter.

We cannot pretend to review all the points of Mr. Carpenter's speech, and without intending any disrespect to Mr. Carpenter, we think it hardly worth while. Mr. Carpenter's speech, moreover, was a very rambling and disjointed speech, as Mr. Carpenter observed, and as the audience noticed. It was in fact, simply a good confidence discourse, as we have said.

It is but just to Mr. Carpenter, however, to say that he was wholly unaware of having been announced for a speech until he arrived on the cars, quite late in the evening; so that he was entirely unprepared for the occasion. And had he been previously informed of what was expected of him, he would doubtless have been prepared to have said more things he did not believe in a more confidential way. Not that Mr. Carpenter, however, could by any means conclude his oration, however improvised, without essaying to spread a Union plaster of which he conceived the country stood in so much need. This he did, with great unction, accompanied with many fervent exhortations to the faithful, to vote for Douglas. This was one of Mr. Carpenter's most comical jokes, given in his most tragical style. Voting for Democracy, however, to save the Union, is a stale joke, that has lost savor withal. Not but that it might perhaps with some propriety be revived and allowed to take rank as a first class jest, since Democracy has had its back broke. Telling which side to vote on is where the laugh occurs.

But seriously, for Douglas orators to prate of disunion, and for Douglas himself to affect hysterics at every railroad station throughout the country, over the agitation which, as he would fain have folks believe, threatens to immediately sever this Union, is a very absurd, if not a very impudent piece of business for them to do;—since it is notorious that of all the riotous promotors of slavery agitation, who have cursed this land, Douglas has not a rival in guilt. To him, more than to all others, is due the danger which threatens the Union to whatever extent it may be threatened, from the agitation of the slavery question; and to instruct men, therefore, that to vote for Douglas is to vote to quiet agitation, and to save the Union is to be either very humorous or very impudent."

HON. ROBT. SCHENCK AND THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.—Hon. ROBT. C. SCHENCK, of Ohio, has been making a speech at Providence, Rhode Island. The Providence Journal describes him as saying:

"I am a Republican because I am a conservative Whig, and always have been. I am for the Constitution and the Union, and who is not? And I hold to the interpretations that seventy years of our history have given to that Constitution. And the main purpose of the Republican party is to put an end to this double dealing policy upon the question of slavery, not to dodge it and avoid it, but to meet and settle it by returning to the policy of the early days of the government.

A PASSAGE in Book 18, chap. 30, of PLINY'S Natural History, would seem to indicate that reaping machines were known in ancient times, and that too, among a people so lacking in civilization as the Gauls. The passage, literally translated, reads:

"Of reaping itself there are various methods. In the broad plains of the Gauls, enormous machines, with teeth set in a row, placed on two wheels, are driven through the standing grain, a horse being attached to it in a contrary way to the usual mode of attaching horses. Thus, the grain, being cut off, falls into the furrow."

COUNTERFEIT.—A dangerous counterfeit on the Southern Bank of Indiana, has made its appearance. Look out!

Mr. Seward's Speech

Gov. Seward's Detroit speech, which we published in full yesterday, is a calm, philosophical argument and review addressed to thinking men, and better suited for quiet reading at home, than as a stimulant for tumultuous crowds such as those to whom it was originally delivered. It contains nothing to alarm or horrass the South—nothing to excite evil passions at the North. It treats a great problem—one that must be met, whether we will or no—in a truly statesmanlike spirit. Its propositions are mainly such as cannot be disputed. What Mr. Seward proposes as the highest aim of the Republican party, is only what Washington approved, what Franklin zealously advocated, what Jefferson ably supported, and what the founders of our Republic in general expected of their successors in the Government.

Mr. Seward correctly traces the history of the divergence of our National Government from those principles of liberty and justice which were the foundation of our free institutions, and by which alone they can have perpetuity. He also pays a deserved tribute to Mr. Lincoln, as the man through whom our Government is to be restored to its original character and principles. The speech is one of the ablest and soundest which Mr. Seward has ever delivered.—Chi. Gazette,

A New Phase in Wife Desertion.

Not long since a man named E Newcomb White, left his family in Burlington, Iowa, and came to Chicago, ostensibly to get work Mrs. White and the little Whites were not furnished in the best manner with the little indispensables of existence that home requires, but were hopeful in the idea that the parient, who is a printer by trade, would better his fortunes here and send for them. Not long after his arrival here, Mrs. White, at Iowa, received the following letter:

CHICAGO, August 28.

MRS. WHITE: I have the pair, as a stranger, to announce to you that your husband, Mr. E N. White, was out on the lake with me in a boat and was upset, and he unfortunately drowned before assistance could pick only me up. He is gone. "The Lord gave and the Lord hath taken away." May He comfort you and the fatherless, who feedeth the young ravens.

E. NEWCOMB.

This letter, of course, created a sensation, and a painful one, in the family at Burlington, but, from one or two previous circumstances the supposed widow's grief was changed into a sharp suspicion that there was "something rotten in Denmark." With a woman's wit she acted in writing to City Marshal Lawson of this city, to inquire if one E N. White was not still living in this city, and with him a certain black-eyed Miss Murp. v. Neither the Coroner's record, nor the local columns of our city dailies, gave information that any one had been drowned here on the day in question and a little investigation showed that Mr. E. N White was alive, and further that he must himself have written the above piously consoling letter to his own widow. The case is a singular one. The Burlington Times says the family are poorly off. We think they are better off without this worthless fellow, who is here with his Miss Murphy, as discovered by officer Douglas yesterday.—Chicago Press & Tribune.

HEAVY DIAMOND ROBBERY AT SARATOGA SPRINGS.—We learn from a gentleman just from Saratoga, that a heavy robbery of diamonds and jewelry occurred at the Union Hotel, the latter part of last week. The owner of the property was a Mrs. Wright, of Massachusetts, and it consisted of jewelry and diamonds, valued at six thousand dollars!

No clue has been obtained to the recovery of the property; but there are circumstances tending to fasten the transaction on a "lady" who had been stopping at the hotel. It appears that some days before the occurrence, Mrs. Wright became acquainted with this person; and, although she did not know anything of her character or antecedents, presuming from her genteel appearance and address, that she was a lady, the two became so intimate that Mrs. Wright was in the habit of receiving her in her private room. By this means, the suspected party became familiar with the amount of Mrs. Wright's jewelry, and knew where she was in the habit of placing it for safe keeping.

On the day before the robbery occurred, this person called for her bill, which she paid, and left the house. The next day, while Mrs. Wright was down stairs, listening to the music of the band attached to the house, her room was entered and the jewelry taken from the private drawer. It was evidently taken by some person who was perfectly familiar with the premises Another reason why the female alluded to is suspected is that, just before reaching Saratoga, she was overheard telling a man who accompanied her that she would stop at some other hotel. She was afterwards identified by the gentleman who overheard this remark, as the same person who had succeeded in establishing the intimacy with Mrs. Wright; and there is good reason to believe, therefore, that either she, or the male accomplice who accompanied her, is the author of the robbery. Both of these parties disappeared from the Springs, but we are not advised whether it is known what direction they took.

Several other robberies, of smaller accounts, occurred at Saratoga last week, and they are all attributed to the same parties.—Albany Times, Sept. 4th.

THE NEW YORK DISPATCH makes the following estimate of the votes in that city at the approaching election:

"In the strongest Democratic Wards it is well known that the R-publicans have gained largely by defections from the Democratic ranks, and we believe that at least nine out of every ten of the voters who supported Fillmore in 1856, are now for Lincoln—There is no defection in the ranks of the Fremont men of 1856. Now our calculation would be something like this, as to the Lincoln vote in the city of New York:

Fremont vote in 1856.....	17,771
Fillmore men who will vote for Lincoln ...	10,000
Democrats who have been Republicans,	3,000
New Republican voters—natural increase,	9,000

That Lincoln's vote will reach at least 35,000 in this county we have not the slightest doubt. We do not believe the whole vote in the city can, by any possibility, be increased over 85,000. This would give 50,000 votes against the Republicans, or a majority of 15,000. But we do not believe the Democratic vote of this county will reach 50,000, while there is a probability that Lincoln's vote will be higher than our estimate. Indeed, the Republicans in some of the strongest Democratic Wards are sanguine in running their opponents very close—in fact, there are many shrewd Republican politicians who have strong hopes of being able to carry the city on the Presidential question.

AN OWNER AND DID NOT KNOW IT.—A curious discovery has just been made of valuable real estate belonging to the city of New York, of which the authorities were totally ignorant. Some time last year a person appeared before Mr. Hawes, the Comptroller, and stated that he knew of a large amount of property really belonging to the city, but which had been in the undisturbed occupancy of private parties for years—and he proposed for a certain consideration, viz: a per centage on the value of the property recovered, to disclose the location of the property, and the names of the pseudo owners.

Mr. Hawes declined then to enter into the arrangement, but opened negotiations with the party giving the hint, and meanwhile communicated the matter to the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, who set the Comptroller to preparing maps and lists of all Property owned by the city, and making investigations, in the course of which it was discovered that a very large number of lots, in possession of the city for many years, have never been recorded at all; the original deeds, however, being in possession of the Comptroller; and in other cases, property to the value of fifty thousand dollars was discovered, which was in the possession of other parties. Negotiations are still pending with the party giving the first clue, and it is expected they will lead to still more astonishing disclosures.

One of the Northern Transportation Co's screw steamers sails for the above ports every day, from the Ins Company's dock at the M. & Miss. R. R. depot, touching at nearly all intermediate ports.

FOR COLLINGWOOD.

The Collingwood Line of screw steamers leave semi-weekly from Dousman's dock, foot of East Water Street, connecting at Collingwood with the Northern Railway of Canada, for the East.

FOR GREEN BAY.

The screw steamer Ogontz makes weekly trips to the above port starting from Olmsted's dock.

Senator Seward in Milwaukee!!

PREPARATIONS FOR HIS RECEPTION.

The General Committee of Arrangements for the reception of Senator SEWARD and his friends in Milwaukee, met and organized yesterday noon; ALEXANDER MITCHELL in the chair and J. P. SEAMAN, Secretary.

The following sub-committees were appointed to take charge of the various details of the proposed demonstration:

COMMITTEE ON RECEPTION AND ESCORT.

Rufus King,	E. D. Holton,
G. A. Starkweather,	J. M. Durand,
Hans Crocker,	Amos Sawyer,
John H. Tweedy,	E. Cramer,
Jacob Mahler,	James H. Paine,
J. B. D. Cogswell.

COMMITTEE ON FINANCE.

C. F. Ilsley,	John Plankinton,
Daniel Daggett,	Andrew Mitchell,
Jacob Mahler,	J. A. Phelps,
John Bradford,	George Trentledge,
G. W. Luitfrk.

COMMITTEE ON CELEBRATION.

J. R. Brigham,	J. P. Seaman,
John Lockwood,	C. Preusser,
George Burnham,	L. Cutler,
Carl Olsen,	John Plankinton,
W. Coleman.

On motion, it was resolved that the members of the General Committee and of the several sub-committees, be especially requested to meet at Head-Quarters, Albany Building, this, Saturday, at 12 o'clock, to perfect their arrangements for the welcome to Senator SEWARD. It is earnestly desired that every member should be on hand punctually at the hour named. There is much to be done and but little time to do it.

A general invitation is extended by the committee to our friends in the "rural districts," and in the thrifty towns of Waukesha, Racine, Whitewater, Kenosha, Ozaukee, &c., to unite with us in this demonstration. We hope to see a large delegation in from the country. As for the city, everybody will be out; and should the night be favorable, the torchlight display will be the finest ever seen in Wisconsin. But let every man "make ready!"

Meeting at the Fulon Republican Wigwam.

The members of the Union Republican Club of the Second, Sixth and Ninth Wards are requested to meet on Saturday evening, Sept. 8th, at half-past seven o'clock.

JOHN P. SEAMAN, Pres.
G. W. MAYHEW, } Sec.
N. SCHANTZ, }

THE CITIZENS of the Second Ward will meet this evening at 7 o'clock at Korrman's Saloon, to make arrangements for the reception of America's Greatest Statesman, WM. H. SEWARD.

BY ORDER OF THE COMMITTEE.

Free Democrat Wisconsin please copy.

THE DISCUSSION AT WAUKESHA.—It is with great pain that we are compelled to lower our hitherto high estimate of the character of the gentleman with whom we had hoped to engage in debate. The gifted Mr. WRIGHT, of the News, (of whom it is no flattery to say, he is at once the pride and pet of the Wisconsin press,) has seen fit to accuse us of a slander in regard to the preparations for the debate at Waukesha. We did say that we placed no confidence in the rumor that he had engaged a fifer and drummer to perform during the rendition of our speech. And we now reiterate it. We do not believe it. If the talented gentleman sees fit to descend from his proud position, as the first journalist in the State—to bandy criminations, and thus evade the discussion, the consequences shall rest on his own head; for our part we shall pursue the even tenor of our way, and when the time arrives, repair to Waukesha and make our speech, whether Mr. WRIGHT is there, whether there is anybody there or not, supported by the proud consciousness that we have done our duty nobly and faithfully, undeterred by such paltry considerations as pea-nuts and candy.

OFFICERS OF THE GRAND LODGE OF G. T.—This body of Good Templars elected the following officers for the ensuing year on Thursday:

Hon. S. D. HASTINGS, Madison, G. W. C. T.; S. C. BEAN, Sun Prairie, G. W. C.; Mrs. ADELIA STEWART, Eagle, G. W. V. T.; J. B. JUDSON, Milwaukee, G. W. S.; Mrs. EMILY L. THOMPSON, Hartford, G. W. T.; Miss L. H. HATHAWAY, Waupun, G. W. I. G.; J. E. SEEBOLD, Menominee Falls, G. W. O. G; JOHN WALWORTH, Richland Centre, G. W. C.

The officers will probably be installed this evening. There are from 250 to 300 delegates present at the meetings, and considerable important business is being transacted They will probably break up to-morrow.

THE ACCIDENT ON THE LA CROSSE ROAD.—The accident on the La Crosse Road, Thursday afternoon, resulted rather more seriously than our first information led us to state. One lady who was just leaving the saloon, was thrown with much force against the seats, and had two of her ribs broken. A gentleman in the same car was also bruised considerably.

THE WESTERN "WIDE-AWAKE."—This is a spirited Campaign paper, published at Cincinnati, by MAROT and BARCLAY, at fifty cents per copy. It is the organ of the "Wide-Awakes" in the Western States, and besides being devoted to the interests of the organization, gives a full summary of the of the political and general news of the day. We command it to the patronage of our Milwaukee "Wide-Awakes."

☞A HEAVY RAIN-STORM yesterday was very welcome. We hope to hear of its visit south and west of us, where it was anxiously looked for.

THE AURORA BOREALIS appeared in unusual colors on Thursday night.

THE COMMITTEE MEETING TO-DAY!

The members of the General Committee of Arrangements for the reception of Senator SEWARD and his friends, as well as the Members of the several sub-committees announced in our paper this morning, are earnestly requested to meet at the Republican Head-Quarters, Albany Building, punctually at noon to-day. There is much to be done and no time to be lost. All the arrangements for the demonstration of Monday evening, should be completed by this evening, and if every member of the General Committee will take hold and do his share of the work, it can all be easily accomplished.

TO OUR FRIENDS IN THE COUNTRY.

We hope to see a good crowd in from the country, on Monday evening, to assist in the demonstration in honor of Senator SEWARD. We expect, of course, that the Republicans of the towns adjacent to our city will turn out, en masse, and we shall be glad to see the Democrats also. The "Wide-Awakes" of Waukesha, Racine, Kenosha, Whitewater, Ozaukee and other cities and villages, will, no doubt, be on hand. The occasion is a great one and should be fitly commemorated.

Inauguration of the Democratic Wigwam.

Last night was a delicious drizzling, chilly night, and the Democrats, inaugurated their Wigwam on Market street.

When we arrived at the shanty, MAT H. CARPENTER was inaugurating. He made a pretty speech. It was like all his efforts—very fine, but not like the most of his efforts truthful. He said the Republican party were endeavoring to get the General Government to legislate so as to injure the interests of the South. He said that the triumph of Republican principles was essentially the dissolution of the Union, &c.,—all of which was very silly for Mr. CARPENTER, who knew better.

As the Wigwam was built on ground that is very soft and soggy, and we did not wish to catch cold, we left after hearing our eloquent friend through.

There was a goodly crowd present who were glad to get out of the rain, but we are informed that when some of the other big guns of the city commenced in the same strain, the crowd braved the rain nobly.

AUTUMNAL FLOWERS.—A well managed flower garden will, at all times of the year when out-door plants can bloom, present a fine show of flowers. From the time the first snow drop or crocus shows itself, perhaps through a late fall of snow, until the severe frosts have performed their work, and killed the last lingering roses, verbenas, &c, there should be a constant succession of bloom in all parts of the garden, so that no portion may appear unattractive. Succeeding the early bulbous plants will be the spring flowering shrubs, the early perennial herbaceous plants the tulip, hyacinth and other bulbs, to be followed by the early annuals, bedding plants from the green-house, and so on through the entire season. Considerable pains must be taken, and forethought exercised, to lay out and plant the flower garden in such a manner as constantly to present a good bloom. The late spring and early summer will have their bulbous plants and herbaceous perennials; the late summer, its early sown annuals; and the autumn, will have its dahlias, verbenas, and late sown annuals. This latter season, if the garden be properly managed, will not be any less attractive than the earlier months. The aster will be in perfection from late sown seeds in September. Phlox drummondii, planted in June or July, will equal or exceed the verbena beds in beauty. Candy tuft, mignionette, balsams, and many other annuals, from late sowings, will keep up a constant bloom until frost. The late blooming perennial-phloxes will make a splendid display in the borders. The rose acacia, among shrubs, will put forth a second display of bloom. The snowberry, the althea, the eunonymus, and a few other shrubs, will assist in the adornment of the garden in autumn. Roses, whether tender or hard, will be in their glory through the fall months of the perpetual blooming varieties. In milder latitudes than ours, the chrysanthemum will be a distinguished ornament of the garden. Of bulbous plants, the gladiolus in its many varieties, all beautiful and showy, the tuberose with its tall spike of pure and fragrant flowers, and the magnificent Japan lily will constitute the stock.

NEW PUBLICATIONS—POLITICAL MEDALS.—We are indebted to TUNIS & CO., of the News and Periodical Depot on Wisconsin street, for a copy of WILKIE COLLINS' admirable story, "The Woman in White." It is neatly illustrated by JOHN MCLENAN, and is altogether one of the most readable books of the day. TUNIS & Co. also send us "Peterson's Magazine" for October, full of engravings, fashion plates and light reading, and said to be "the best in the world for ladies."

Politicians, who wish to obtain DOUGLAS and JOHNSON, or LINCOLN and HAMLIN medals, can buy them of TUNIS & Co., for ten cents each. This is much cheaper than they can be bought at any other house in this city.

TUNIS & Co. have also full supplies of "Rutledge," "Nemesis" and all the other new publications, as well as the latest daily and weekly papers from New York and everywhere else. Give them a call.

NEW CLOTHING STORE.—Mr. SAMUEL FRIEND, of the firm of FRIEND BROS. of Milwaukee, has just opened out in Winona a branch of their extensive wholesale clothing house, occupying the store four doors from the corner of Second and Centre streets, north side. The stock of goods in this establishment will be found equal to any in this part of the country, in variety and extent. Mr. FRIEND invites a share of the public patronage, and will do everything fair to merit its extension.—Winona Republican.

LECTURES.—Mr. E. V. WILSON, of Boston, a celebrated Clairvoyant Medium, will lecture at Good Templar's Hall, Bowman's Block, on Sunday, September 9, at 3 and 7 o'clock, on subjects pertaining to Spiritualism. At the conclusion of the lecture, Mr. W. will delineate the character of individuals present in the audience, and describe incidents of their life. Admission 10 cents. The public are respectfully invited to attend.

CELEBRATION OF THE BATTLE OF LAKE ERIE.—The Detroit and Milwaukee Railway will issue half-fare tickets to the Celebration of the Battle of Lake Erie, which takes place at Cleveland on the 10th inst., provided a sufficient number wish to go to make it an object for the road to do so. A list will be kept at the Company's office, 230 East Water street, where all desirous of going are requested to leave their names.

EXCEEDINGLY DELIGHTFUL.—Tuesday morning the propeller Iowa presisted in getting aground at the Walker's Point Bridge; persisted in staying there just when the passengers were desirous of reaching the Lake Shore cars. Never before did bridge in general, and swing-bridge in particular, and the Walker's Point bridge in detail, suffer so much at the mouths of pedestrians.

The New State of Things.

The West is again beginning to assume its proper position in the financial world. Our present magnificent crop has once more turned public opinion in our favor and we are already beginning to see the effect of the change. All over the East, only a few short months ago, anything with the Western taint upon it was regarded with distrust and let alone severely. But "presto change," no sooner has the golden gleam of our bountiful harvest beamed upon our eastern neighbors than their suspicious looks are changed to welcoming smiles, their cold shoulders to bland greetings, and our greatest danger for a while to come will be too good credit and consequently too large purchases and loans. Let us not therefore disregard the lesson of the past, but in our coming prosperity prepare ourselves for the future. By encouraging and developing home manufactures and home institutions, let us prepare ourselves for greater independence and permanent prosperity. A prompt recognition of this principle and duty now, will secure us in great measure from disastrous re-action and revulsion, and tend toward the speedy development of the wealth and influence which nature and providence, by the bounteous resources bestowed upon us, have plainly marked out for this great western land.—The way to do this, as we have said, is to foster and build up home manufactures and home institutions. There has been among us, even here at home, a too prevalent distrust and decrying of home institutions, of anything western simply because it was so; now there is not only no need of this, but it is a self-destructive, suicidal policy, and if we would prosper as a community, must be stopped. That we have had some bitter experience is true, but that swindling or miscalculation ever has been worse among us than at the East we boldly deny, and challenge the comparison. Let us then be imbued with the returning confidence and resolve on helping ourselves. One western institution, to which we would call special attention, and for which we would claim special regard, is The Wisconsin Life Insurance Co. Founded upon principles which have stood the test of experience, and been proven the best, it begun its good work at the very height of the hard times, and has already won its way to a position of established and conceded success. On examining its records we were surprised to find among its members so many of the prominent and reliable business men of the State, although the character and standing of its trustees and managers had prepared us to expect for it the public confidence. We are glad to chronicle its success, and cordially recommend it to the people of the West. We hold it to be an indisputable fact that there is scarcely a man of family in the community who can afford to be without the protection which Life Insurance affords. The experience of the last two or three years, the general depression of business and depreciation of property, and the anxiety lest we should be taken away and leave our families to struggle alone, with such odds against them, have been sufficient to convince many of the almost absolute necessity of some such protection as a Life policy gives. To all such, and to all who ought to be convinced, we would say go at once and take out a policy in our home company, whose managers are known to you to be men of integrity and prudence, and thus secure both your own interest and that of the whole community, for such an institution in our midst is a public blessing.

THE GREAT FAIR AT ST. LOUIS.—On the 24th of this month, the Mammoth Fair to be held at St. Louis convenes, and continues six days. That it will be the greatest Fair ever held on the Western Continent, there is no doubt, for the thousand attractions that will be attendant upon it, have been bruited by the journals through every section of the country, and the premium programme, amounting to $23,000, has been landed as the most extensive and munificent premium list that has ever issued from any Fair Association. There is a premium of fifteen hundred dollars for the best Roadster Stallion in harness, and three premiums of a thousand dollars each for Blooded Bulls, Blooded Stallions and Roadster Stallions. Such premiums as these, will bring to St. Louis the finest stock of every description that is to be found in the Union. There will be a thousand other attractions. Agricultural implements, machinery, and all kinds of mechanical manufacture, and also fruits, flowers, paintings, and textile fabrics. Captain HARPER, the President of the Association, has also invited the four candidates for the Presidency and Vice Presidency to be present, and doubtless some of them will be.—There will be an immense influx of strangers at St. Louis during the week of the Great Fair.

St. Louis, Sept. 6, 1860.

ARGUMENTS.—If to morrow, that little child of yours should, by an accident, too horrible to contemplate, but which may nevertheless occur, be thrown upon a blazing fire, or have its clothing ignited, and its flesh terribly burned, what would you not give for one bottle of Guernsey's Balm, could you but get it without having to waste one moment's time in going to the druggist's for it? It is a sacred truth that it will prevent all serious consequences, and heal without a scar, if applied in time. Do not remain without it a single hour.

BASE BALL—MATCH GAME.—The return game between the Excelsior and Milwaukee Base Ball Clubs, of this city, comes off this afternoon, on the old Fair Grounds, Spring Street Hill. Play will commence at 3 o'clock An omnibus will leave the corner of Wisconsin and Main streets, a quarter before 3, to convey parties to the ground.

CALEB WALL has at last located where he was eighteen years ago, on the corner of Wisconsin and Main streets. He is opening a large assortment of books, which he will dispose of at auction, at his usually reasonable terms.

THIS MORNING WALL will at his Auction Room, corner of Wisconsin street, Apples.—This evening at 7 1-2 o'clock, he commences his large Book Sale. All should attend and get books.

The Fruits of "Squatter Sovereignty."

The history of KANSAS affords the most striking illustration of the DOUGLAS doctrine of "Squattor Sovereignty," reduced to practice. KANSAS, under the Missouri Compromise, was dedicated to FREEDOM, being all North of the dividing line marked out by the Act of 1820. Mr. DOUGLAS, as is well known, brought in the Bill to repeal the Missouri Compromise, and threw down the barrier erected in 1820, to prevent the spread of slavery northward. This act threw open KANSAS to the invasion of slavery and the Slaveholders of the South made haste to take possession of the fair and fertile Territory to which Mr. DOUGLAS invited them. They were met and opposed by the FREE-LABOR of the North and West. A bloody and protracted struggle ensued, the end of which is not yet. That is what "Squatter Sovereignty" did for Kansas. The Buffalo Commercial Advertiser thus sums up the matter:

"Its early history was under the shadow of popular sovereignty, with its unhappy train of civil war, riot murder and night arsons. And it is no very strange thing that the people of Kansas, accustomed to look with reason to political trouble as the first cause of their misfortunes, should look now to the same source for relief. They have been anxious for admission into the Union. Impoverished and weary with the struggle they have looked to the hour of becoming a State as an era of hope, when railroad grants, school concessions, and the thousand and one benefits with which Uncle Sam is accustomed to fit out his territorial daughters when he proposes to them to be the dignity of States, should come in to afford employment for labor and promote the expenditure of money."

They hoped and prayed for this last winter. They begged it of Congress, and when Congress refused, they felt that the one hope of Kansas was destroyed. Now again they demand admission, and that right speedily. But they have devised a new and singular plan for bringing it about, if we are to believe the correspondence of the New York Times. By a logic which has a sort of correctness in its very absurdity, they look upon the maintenance of the territorial condition as the source of their evils, and are seeking in the shortest plan to get rid of their filial relation to the Cabinet of James Buchanan. They propose a coup d'etat, to organize a State government at once under the Wyandotte Constitution, to send Federal Governors, Secretaries, Judges and Attorneys back about their business, and to place in their stead rulers of their own choosing. In a word, they are about to enter upon a revolution, displacing their present government, and installing in its stead one of their own choice. They imagine that having taken this step they will compel Congress to admit them as a State before December shall have closed, and that the railroads and school grants, and the money and the employment for labor will follow, that admission as effect follows cause.

It is not wonderful that this wronged and insulted people should resort to extreme measures. With them, the word of promise has been spoken to the ear and broken to the hope. They have had their fill of Popular Sovereignty. They were to be allowed to settle their institutions in their own way. The right of the people was supreme—subject only to a succession of tyrannical Governors, a horde of swindling government agents and the gentle supervision of organized bands of Border Ruffians, backed by a few thousand United States Troops. They settled their own institutions at the costs of burnings, murders, imprisonments, court martials and stripes upon the back. All this was done under the cheap of popular sovereignty and now under the same name they propose to renew the same catalogue of difficulties. It is all a part of the vaunted "great principle" of Judge Douglas; the legitimate, inevitable result and consequence of his doctrines.

In view of the above facts, it is no marvel that the people of Kansas are inflexibly opposed to "Squatter Sovereignty" and its chief advocate, STEPHEN A. DOUGLAS. To them this "great principle" has brought no thing but confusion, disorder, violence, murder, rapine and arson. They have not been allowed to make their own laws, to choose their own officers, or even to establish their own State Constitution. Twice have they applied for admission into the Union with a Free Constitution and twice has the Pro-Slavery Democracy in Congress refused to let them in. They are still kept out as a punishment for preferring FREE to Slave LABOR. This is the entertainment to which the advocates of "Squatter Sovereignty" have invited the people of Kansas. This is the practical application of the "great principle." This is the result of removing the ancient landmarks, set up by the Fathers of the Republic, and throwing down the time-honored barrier which said to SLAVERY "thus far, but no farther."

Sam. Houston's Opinion.

General HOUSTON, in his brief letter to his "friends," withdrawing his name from the list of Presidential candidates says:

Let not those who rely upon carrying the election into the House of Representatives deceive themselves. The people have been unable to effect such a consummation. Neither four, three nor two opponents of the Republican candidates can carry it there; and if they could, the strife which is being engendered among the different factions would render the result very uncertain.

Gen. HOUSTON does well to caution his fellow-countrymen against trusting to the House of Representatives to select a President. The duty belongs to and should be discharged by the PEOPLE and not by their representatives in Congress. The whole game of the Sham Democracy, however, is to prevent an election by the People and carry it into the House. This is the object and explanation of the Douglas-Know-Nothing coalition in New York and other States. The managers who pull the wires have no idea of electing DOUGLAS by the people. Their sole aim is to throw the election into the House. In that field their talent for "bargain and corruption" would find full exercise, and however much the country might suffer from the contest, their interests would be carefully looked to and their pay from the successful candidate secured in advance.

GEN. NYE'S MODEL SPEECH.—On the route from Auburn to Niagara, last week, Mr. SEWARD was at several places called out of the cars by large numbers of people, who had assembled to meet him, and compelled to say a few words to them. His remarks, of course, were of the briefest nature and of a conversational style. At Albion a banner was raised up before him, "Has Douglas found his Mother?" Mr. SEWARD noticing it, replied, "I am unable to answer that question, being averse to indulging in personal matters, but my friend, Gen. NYE, who is in the cars, may be able to inform you." Retiring to the car, with this hint, the people called vociferously for Gen. NYE. He stepped from the cars and began, "Fellow-citizens," (the bell rang and he added) "good bye, I am going to take this train." The General considers this his model speech.

ON TUESDAY there was an immense meeting of the Republicans at Napoleon, Henry county, Ohio. By boat, and in private carriages, and ox-carts, the crowds flocked in—men, women, and youth of all sexes. Speeches were made from two stands, and songs were sung by the various glee clubs belonging to the towns which sent delegations. In the evening the town was alive with torches and bonfires and illuminations, and an enthusiasm was aroused greater than anything ever before known in that section of the country.

DOWN ON ONE SIDE.—At Niagara Falls, where Gov. SEWARD was called out by the people, he told them that the tumult he had seen and witnessed, was simply the turning over of the country. "It had lain on one side too long. It had for forty years been lying on its South side. It is now about to turn to its North side."

Lincoln in Alabama.

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

MR. EDITOR:—Along with many of the citizens of this vicinity, I had the unusual gratification of turning over two numbers of your excellent paper to-day, procured at Washington Court House, Alabama. Two articles attracted general interest, especially that one having for its subject our excellent candidate for the Presidency, Mr. LINCOLN. The contemptible statements flooded over this country, principally through officials at Washington, who appear, justly, to tremble at the success of Mr. LINCOLN, induces adverse accounts respecting this gentleman, to be read with unusual interest. In addition to other political corruption carrying out at the seat of government, the abuse of the franking privilege is foremost. From the first attempt by Northern partizans to disparage the claims of Mr. LINCOLN, the public mind was kept in check, as regards confidence in the garbled statements weekly pouring in on them by an overwhelming and undeniable fact before the country, viz: the PROFLIGACY and CORRUPTION of the present Administration. The statistical account of the public expenditure and the overwhelming vote of Congress as to corruption, indisputably fixed those two charges, and the inference in the minds of reflecting men here, was rational and per consequence—that they would make any and every kind of a struggle to prevent the theatre of public abuse from getting into the hands of a man whose indisputable claims were independence and honesty, with equally undoubted intelligence.

The public mind generally, through this section of the Union, has settled down in a firm, and not to be shaken belief, that Mr. LINCOLN will make a Constitutional Executive, and of course a safe one. That he has it amply in his power to surround himself with talent, patriotism and virtues, political and moral, none doubt, and that he has the wisdom to make this a paramount consideration, is as little questioned. Independent of all other considerations, reflecting, observing and patriotic men, want to see a Federal change in the administration of our form of government. They are satisfied that political corruption, especially as exhibited by officials, of the first class of officials at Washington, and which actually appeared, from its general range, from New Orleans to the Northern limits of our country, and the profligacy that has mixed up with the administration of public officers, bids fair to destroy all the benefits intended to be secured to our political institutions. And the same kind of men here, are much more alarmed at the ultimate result of black corruption and blacker profligacy, than black Republicanism, with all the horrors attached to it by hungry expectants of office, office-holders, political demagogues, or Coon-carriers.

Added to other causes of want of confidence in the present Administration, the appearance of a dangerous degree of incapacity in officials, is plainly discoverable.

Last January the present Commissioner issued pre-emptory orders to different land offices along with land patents, for lands purchased in 1854 and 1855 to call on purchasers for proofs of "settlement and cultivation" previous to delivery, and on failure within a certain time, to send the patents back to Washington. The country was thrown into a perfect excitement at the order being spread over the country through the public papers; drove to expense and loss of time to repair to the land offices, carrying hired proof, &c., hundreds of cases occurred. All the time the act of Congress of 1857 before him and the country, relieving this class of purchasers from the duty.

Again, as you will see, he has repeated the same recollection of ignorance of law appertaining to his own official duties, and at the expense of the public quiet. If this is not a glaring proof of ignorance and incapacity, it would be hard to find one. Sensible observing men have long been satisfied that the present administration has, like barnacles attached to a ship's bottom, too many Cobb's without corn, and they want a change to save the political institutions of the country, as well as its political character. That we have been acting the play of "All in the wrong" for the past eight years, government expenditures alone will amply prove, and the proof that may be wanting can be found on the journals of Congress, and the notorious daylight corruption carried out by high officials set forth in the public papers uncontradicted. These, with many more facts, making the prospects of Mr. LINCOLN's election quite satisfactory to hundreds here. G.

Republicanism in Oconomowoc.

Correspondence of the Sentinel.

OCONOMOWOC, WIS., Sept. 5, 1860.

MR. EDITOR:—The Republicans of this town have commenced the campaign in good earnest. On Monday evening last there was a glorious rally of our staunch Republicans at Dodge's Hall, in this village. The room was crowded, and the enthusiasm which prevailed gave unmistakable proof that the right principles are fast gaining ground in our midst. The demonstration of Monday was the more gratifying, inasmuch as the only press in town is in the hands of DOUGLAS Democrats, and the notice of the meeting was at best but imperfectly circulated. When the principles of Freedom are to be discussed, the very atmosphere, seemingly, becomes a willing messenger to convey the glad tidings, at least judging from our meeting of Monday evening.

Professor SIDNEY A. BEAN, of Waukesha, delighted the audience with one of his most telling speeches. For more than an hour he held their individual attention, while he portrayed the corruption and falsity of Democratic principles and practice; and likewise showed, by facts and figures, words and deeds, the shallowness, delusions and utter unsoundness of DOUGLAS and his "great principle."

A few Democrats, whose utter bankruptcy in principle, and in hope, is a sufficient reason why they should hold no meetings of their own, hung upon the outskirts of the gathering like surly curs, giving occasional vent audibly to their disapprobation of the speaker's remarks; but being openly invited to present their own case, they refused to come to time.

During the evening, a goodly number of names were added to our Constitution, and the meeting adjourned in the best of feeling. You can safely set down Oconomowoc for an increased vote for LINCOLN and HAMLIN in November. Yours,

ONE OF THE REPUBLICANS.

Census of Wisconsin.—Congressional Apportionment.

From the Madison State Journal.

Editors of the State Journal:

The table below gives the result of the census just taken, so far as I have seen it reported in the newspapers, as compared with the figures of 1855. Should the same increase hold good in the balance of the State, the population of Wisconsin would be about 850,000. The ratio of representation in Congress will probably be increased to about 120,000; and this will entitle our State to seven members of the House of Representatives:

RULES FOR TRANSFERRING ENGRAVINGS TO WHITE PAPER.—The London Builder gives the following rule for transferring engravings to white paper:

"Place the engravings for a few seconds over the vapor of iodine; dip a slip of white paper in a weak solution of oil of vitriol, when dry, lay a slip upon the engraving, and place them for a few minutes under the press. The engraving will thus be reproduced in all its delicacy and finish. The iodine has the property of fixing the black ink upon the engraving, and not the white. This important discovery is yet in its infancy.

James T. Brady's Letter to B. Peckham, Denouncing Douglas for Securing the Repeal of the Missouri Compromise.

The following letter from the Breckinridge candidate for Governor of New York, though written six years ago, is interesting at the present crisis, as showing his feeling toward Mr. Douglas, and his opinion of the fitness of the "Little Sucker" for the Presidency:

NEW YORK, Friday, June 29, 1854.

"MY DEAR SIR: You judged correctly as to my opinion about the Nebraska bill recently forced through Congress, by means, which, however creditable to the ingenuity, can never redound to the honor of those who employed them. I consider that measure wrong in principle and mischievous in policy; a wanton and wicked repudiation of compromises which the South was bound by every obligation of honor to maintain. It must result in producing angry and dangerous agitations of the Slavery question, under aspects calculated to derive our brethren at the South of many friends who have heretofore stood by them, and desired to do so always. I have neither the wish nor the right to impugn the motives of many who supported the bill; but I cannot reject the ample and conclusive evidence that it is the joint production of a profligate Administration and an ambitious intriguer, that it was conceived with unworthy motives, and will be used for unhallowed objects. Nor can I find any satisfactory justification for such intelligent Northern members as aided in thrusting the bill upon the country, though it had not been solicited by the South. Whether the people will prove in this respect to be more discriminating or more charitable than I, will soon be made known.

As one of the people I feel great pleasure in commending those who exerted themselves to defeat the Nebraska bill, and for the part that you and Messrs. Maurice, Wheeler, Peck, and Oliver took in opposing it, I return my thanks as a Democrat and a man.

"I was in Europe when this scheme was set on foot—I did not return until its success was inevitable. There was no occasion when I could exert any effective influence to prevent that deplorable result. I deeply regret that it did not receive the expressed opposition of those true Democrats with whom you and I have been identified since the Syracuse Convention of 1847. I wish they had resolved not again to be instrumental in afflicting the country, as all of us unconsciously did when we aided to elect Franklin Pierce. That is enough of injury to our country and our principles for one century at least. I supposed that our portion of the party had maintained the cause of the South, and strongly labored to insure its citizens the fullest enjoyment of their constitutional rights. Such was my desire and aim. I adhere to them still.

"My principles remain as they were in 1847, and I cannot and will not be led or driven from the Democratic party, though I refuse to adopt the new dogmas of tricksters manœuvering for the Presidency. We stood by the South, and had every right to expect the South to stand by us. Its representatives in Congress have not done so; and beside incurring the malignant enmity of the Administration—an event which no honorable man should regret—we have been visited with the coldness or the opposition of Southern men, in support of whose interests we gave up all hope of the rewards of political triumphs, and encountered the worst results and persecutions of political warfare. The course of the Southern members shall not, however, make us swerve from the path we chose. We will adhere to the duty we assumed. But I hope that none of us will give the slightest sanction to any device for extending slavery or permit the least diminution of any right which belongs to the North.

"It must have surprised you, as it did me, to find the men whom we had to battle with in this State, from 1847 to 1853, suddenly equanged, by the magic alchemy of Presidential patronage, into violent advocates of greater concessions to the South than it ever could or did claim, and to observe that by the most unexpected advent of a delusive and transitory political millenium, these pretended converts, and some Democrats whom you and I have always acted with, have become rivals in ignoble eagerness to applaud the individual to whom the paternity of the Nebraska scheme is generally attributed. Some of these gentlemen insist that to be received into full communion with them, we must adopt their new articles of faith. If they be sincere in this, and persist in its execution, I for one will take the earliest opportunity to sever all political connection with them. I feel that they misrepresent the sentiments and true purposes of the Democracy. But, even if the contrary were the case, I could not change my deliberate conviction that it was unwise and utterly wrong on the part of the Northern Democrats to permit any disturbance of compromise which our National Conventions have so often distinctly approved, and which not only Mr. Pierce, but Mr. Douglas, the competitors for the profit of now abrogating them, so recently and strongly promised to maintain.

"I will not consider now whether the Missouri Compromise was or was not unconstitutional, as an attempt by one Congress to prohibit or prevent legislation by its successors. Men of great intelligence hold opposite opinions on this point. The admission of a State into our confederacy, though effected by legislative means, is not purely a legislative act, but has the characteristic of a contract, which should be sacredly observed. My views of that and other questions arising out of the Nebraska bill will be given at large when I have an opportunity, which I must covet, to address our fellow Democrats in public. It is enough that the Missouri Compromise had (to use the language of Mr. Douglas, uttered in 1840) 'an origin akin to that of the Constitution of the United States, conceived in the same spirit of fraternal affection, and calculated to remove forever the danger which seemed to threaten at no distant day to sever the social bond of union. All the evidence of public opinion of that day served to indicate that this Compromise had become canonized in the hearts of the American people, which no ruthless hand would be reckless enough to disturb.' For this measure of repose, to which the public faith was pledged, the South received a consideration which it yet enjoys. The duty of keeping that pledge has been admitted and observed by the ablest statesmen from all parts of the Union who have adorned our annals since it was given, and even those who thought that the constitutional power existed, believed, and acted on the belief, that it should never be exercised except under the pressure of imperious necessity, compelling the strictest exaction of extreme right.

No man can pretend that any such necessity has arisen; no pretext can be assigned for organizing these Territories, which are almost exclusively occupied by red men except obtaining political capital or bestowing Executive patronage. How deplorable that such motives should seduce the North from its honor, or tempt the acquisitiveness of the South! Would that members of the House had been influenced by impulses equal in dignity, which marked the noble conduct of Mr. Hunt, of Louisiana. I am very sorry that a contrary feeling controlled the Senate. It would not have been thus if some of the illustrious men who once swayed that body remained to guide its action—if there had been spared of its former great minds even one to whose nature the designation of giant might be applied without intending or exciting derision.

It would be tedious to set forth in a letter why, if I had been a member of Congress, I should have deemed it my duty to labor and vote against the Nebraska bill. I would have done so with the fullest assurance that I was representing the real sentiments of our fellow-citizens in this city and State, and I almost envy you and those with whom you were associated in opposition to the measure, the grateful approbation which your course will surely secure for you among the masses of the true Democrats. I regard the consummation of the Nebraska plot as another of the contrivances so numerous in the machinery of President making.

"May it happen, as in former instances, that the engine designed to injure others may destroy only its inventor. Heaven grant that you and I may live to see the Presidential chair filled by some gentleman entirely qualified by intellect and moral character to adorn the station, and that the descending gradation of the incumbents which has for some years injured our national reputation, may not be continued by adding to the succession of the incompetent and unworthy, one whose only reliance will be founded on his unscrupulous use of articles by which a selfish demagogue elevates himself at the expense of detriment, if not disgrace, to his country. Ever yours, truly,

JAS. T. BRADY.

The Hon. RUFUS W. PECKHAM."

VERY HANDSOME CONDUCT.—The Republicans of this city and the State, are under great obligations to William K. Muir, Esq., Superintendent of the Detroit and Milwaukie Railway, for the commodious arrangements for the great meeting yesterday. He not only furnished free of cost, and decorated and supplied with platforms at his own expense, the great depot of the Company, a most admirable place for the meetings; but he put down the railroad fares to such a rate—one-third the usual rates—as greatly increased the attendance upon the convention.

As a fitting conclusion, to former courtesies, he, this morning, placed a special car at the disposal of Gov. Seward and company, who left for Lansing. The Republicans of Michigan will not fail to appreciate such kindness.—Detroit Tribune.

The New American Watch.

IN ORDER TO MEET THE REQUIREMENTS of Gentlemen who prefer a thinner watch than those usually made by us, we have lately issued a new style of watch on the three-quarter plate model, especially designed for this purpose.

In establishing this new series, it has also been our design to produce a watch in every way superior to the best and highest priced products of the most reputable of English and Swiss watch manufacturers: and no labor or expense has been spared to this end.

In all respects of fine and durable material, of external and internal finish, accurate compensation and adjustment, of mathematically just proportions, and of practical results, our new three-quarter plate watch challenges competition with any in the world.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES.
DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS,
Prepared by Cornelius L. Cheeseman, M.D.,
NEW YORK CITY.

THE COMBINATION OF INGREDIENTS in these Pills are the result of a long and extensive practice. They are mild in their operation, and certain in correcting all irregularities, painful Menstruation, removing all obstructions, whether from cold or otherwise, headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, whites, all nervous affections, fatigue, pain in the back and limbs, &c., disturbed sleep, which arise from interruption of nature

TO MARRIED LADIES,

Dr. Cheeseman's Pills are invaluable, as they will bring on the monthly period with regularity. Ladies who have been disappointed in the use of other Pills can place the utmost confidence in Dr. Cheeseman's Pills doing all that they represent to do.

NOTICE.

There is one condition of the female system in which the Pills cannot be taken without producing PECULIAR RESULT. The condition referred to is PREGNANCY—the result, MISCARRIAGE. Such is the irresistible tendency of the medicine to restore the sexual functions to a normal condition, that even the reproductive power of nature cannot resist it.

Warranted purely vegetable, and free from anything injurious. Explicit directions, which should be read, accompany each box. Prices $1. Sent by Mail on enclosing $1 to DR. CORNELIUS L. CHEESEMAN, Box 4531, Post Office, New York City.

MOTHERS! MOTHERS!

DON'T FAIL TO PROCURE MRS Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething. It has no equal on earth. It greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing inflamation—will allay all pain, and is sure to regulate the bowels. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and relief and health to your infants. Perfectly safe in all cases.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most experienced and skillful Female Physicians in New England, and has been used with never failing success in millions of cases.

We believe it is the best and surest remedy in the world, in all cases of Dysentery and Diarrhœa in children, whether it arises from teething or any other cause.

If life and health can be estimated by dollars and cents, it is worth its weight in gold.

Millions of bottles are sold every year in the United States. It is an old and well tried remedy.

Pimples on the Face and Skin Diseases

ARE GENERALLY CAUSED BY animalcule burrowings in the skin. Dr. Trask's Magnetic Ointment, by its powerful and penetrating qualities, destroys every vestige of them, restoring health and beauty to the skin wherever applied, removing Tan and Freckles.

Inflamed or Sore Eyes.

A. G. Cushing, of South Bend, Ind., says: "The Magnetic Ointment is the only remedy in use here for INFLAMED EYES. The Auditor of our county has so much faith in its curative powers in this disease, that he not only highly recommends it, but offers to forfeit the amount paid for it in each case, if it fails of a cure."

Piles.

Piles which are at this season of the year particularly troublesome, are cured at once by Trask's Magnetic Ointment; apply to the parts affected and smell of the back.

Nervous or Sick Headache.

Apply the Ointment freely to the forehead and temples and back of the neck, also to the soles of the feet and palms of the hands. It will relieve the severest headache in thirty minutes.

Sewing Machines.

THE
SINGER SEWING MACHINES!

The marked and ever extending popularity of Singer's Sewing Machines!

BOTH IN AMERICA AND EUROPE, is such as best to establish their superiority over all others in the market. Sewing Machines—so called may be bought cheap. It is but a trifling amount of dollars, but is weak en economy to invest any thing in a worthless or unreliable article, and those who will do so must abide the consequences.

SINGER'S NEW FAMILY MACHINES.

In order to place THE BEST FAMILY MACHINE IN THE WORLD within the reach of all, we have introduced our LETTER A, OR TRANSVERSE SHUTTLE MACHINES, beautifully ornamented, for $50.

SINGER'S NO. 1 AND 2 STANDARD SHUTTLE MACHINES.

Both of very general application and capacity, and popular both in the family and the manufactory. Prices reduced, respectively from $135 and $150 to $90 and $105.

SINGER'S NO. 3 STANDARD SHUTTLE MACHINE,

For carriage makers and heavy leather work. Price complete, $125. Also to complete the list an ENTIRELY NEW ARTICLE,

Unequalled for manufacturing purposes: Noise: less, Rapid, and available on every kind of work. Price, (including iron stand and drawers,) $110—cheaper at that in view of its value than the machines of any other manufacture.

All of Singer's Machines make the lute-locked stitch with two threads which is the best stitch known. Every machine fully warranted. For full and reliable information about Sewing Machines, their sizes, prices, working capacities, and the best methods of purchasing, send for a specimen of the forthcoming No. 2 I. M. Singer & Co.'s Gazette, which is a beautiful pictorial paper entirely devoted to the subject. It will be supplied gratis.

THE WINNOWER.
BY THOMAS BUCHANAN READ.

Sings a maiden by a river,
Sings and sighs alternately;
In my heart shall flow forever,
Like a stream her song of sorrow;
Mild her hair of flaxen hue
Tend'rest buds and blossoms teem:
And her beauty glows as through
Rosy sphere the evening beam.
Like her melody's rich bar,
On a golden flood of stars,
Floating like a summer rain,
Through her fingers runs the grain;
Stretch her lovers to such sweet measure,
I must join for very pleasure;
But my lay shall be of her,
Bright and lovely Winnower!

When her song to laughter merges,
Melts the music of her tongue,
Like the voice of silver surges
Over golden pebbles hung.
From her hands the gratitless chaff
On the light wind dances free:
But a sigh will check her laugh—
"So much worthlessness, ah me,
Mingles with the good," saith she,
Yet the grain is fair to see;
Therefore laughs she merrily—
Laughs and sings in such sweet measure,
I must join for very pleasure;
While my heart keeps time with her,
I will praise the Winnower!

LEGEND OF MICAH ROOD.

A stranger, turning over the musty archives of one of our Connecticut towns, a few years since, found the following record:

"November, 10, 1760, Micah Rood, died awfully."

"Well, how did he die?" The record nowhere told.

The question was propounded to the town clerk, who was a new comer, and not a native resident, and who could tell nothing of a circumstance which took place so long before his time. But the stranger's curiosity would not rest satisfied. Died awfully was ringing in his mind continually, until another question suggested itself.

"Have you any very aged persons in town?" was his next inquiry.

"Some, I reckon," was the answer of the parish notary. "There's Simon Backus, who's an old Revolutioner—and they are getting scarce. Then there's the Widder Molly Carver, who's amazin' old and nobody's fool nuther. She remembers back into colony times, and tells heaps of stories to the youngsters around here. She'll talk forever without stopping. Zeb Spicer says when she goes up she'll astonish them there, and their time will be none too long for her stories."

"Where does she live?" the stranger asked.

"Two mile, more or less, on the Providence Turnpike. Next house but one arter you've passed the gate. Low, brown house, gambrel roof."

Thus definitely directed, the gentleman started for the abode of Molly Carver, which he readily found; introduced himself, and made known his inquiry.

"Lor' sakes! Have I ever heern tell how Mike Rood died? Why, man alive! I remember about it myself as though 'twas yesterday, tho' I warn't any bigger than this great-grandchild of mine here when it happened. It had been kinder snowing and raining all day, and not much of it either; but a plenty of howlin' wind, sich as the month of no month in all the year can blow like November. 'Tis the most disagreeablest of all months to my mind, and always makes a body think of suthin' dreadful.—Father had been to town arter a pipe for granney; and when he come back, says he—

"'There's the orfullest thing happened you ever did hear on, mother.'

"'And what is it?' said she, turning dreadful white, while I stood looking up at him, all ears you may depend.

"'Mike Rood's hung himself,' he said, 'on that very arly apple tree there's been so much talk about, in his mother's orchard.'

"'D.d he leave any confession?' granny asked.

"'Not's I heard tell on; though the jury hadn't got back when I was down town. He must have died the work very arly in the morning, for when they found him he was cold and stiff as any thing.'

"Then father went out; and I run up close to granny, half afeared I should see the dead man, or something else orful; for children's mighty easily scared in them days, though dear knows 'tain't so now.

"'There ain't nothin' to be afeared on, Molly,' my grandmother said; 'though I guess, if the truth was all told, there has been them that feared Mike Rood living.'

"'What for, granny?' I asked her.

"'Never mind to-night, child. Some long winter evening, when there's snow on the ground, I'll tell you all I've heam about it.'

"I didn't let her forgit her promise, I'll warrant ye; for I was mighty fond of terrible stories in them days.?"

"'And what did you hear?'" the stranger inquired, determined to learn the whole story.

"'That's what I am goin' to tell you, soon as ever I git my breath a little; for you see I can't talk right on as I could fifty years ago. It's a queerish story; but everybody believed in it in these parts. We'd jest been in the midst of the old French war, and folks had reason to be afraid of their own shadows. Mike was a strange chap and nobody never knew exactly what to make on him. Some folks thought he warn't very cunnin'—others said he had wit a plenty; and I guess they was both partly right, for he used to do and say a great many smart things in a very foolish way."

"He lived alone with his mother, who was a widder. His father died a few years before, fightin' French and Injuns; arter which all the spirit Mike had in him was turned agin the French."

"In the fall of '59 a peddler come into town, bringin' all sorts of forrin notions; and every body set to wonderin' who he was, and where he come from.

"'I know,' said Mike, who overheard the talk. 'He's a Frenchman and a Spy—that's jest what he is; and I dare warrant, if the truth was known, he come straight down here from Canada. But—' Mike went away whispering to himself the unfinished sentence, 'Dead men tells no tales! Likely's not mother 'd like some o' his toggery. Any how, I'll ask him to call.'

"Nothin' was ever seen of the forrin peddler after he went to the Widder Rood's that night. Some said he'd got all the information he wanted out o' folks, and was gone where he come from, others whispered it among themselves Mike Rood might have used him unfair. But afore winter was over every body would have done talkin' about it, only Mike himself could never let the subject rest.

"'What makes the blows on the arly apple tree look so red this spring?' he would ask the little children, as they went by to school. It was one of Mike's foolish questions. How should the children know? Then he went away whistling, laughing, and looking very wise.

"'Why didn't the old robin came back to her tree this year, as she always did afore?' he inquired of them, another day. 'There ain't another sich crotch for a nest in the whole orchard.' The children couldn't tell that nuther; and when they asked their parents, they said Mike didn't know himself—he was half-witted.

"When the apples was ripe, the fust of August, all the children went up, one noon, from the school to beg some.

"'The apples is plen this year,' Mike said, shakin' his head when they asked him.

"'I know better; we'll risk 'em,' said Betsey Forrud.

"'I'll bet a copper you daran't eat one on 'em,' said Mike. "There's a drop o'blood in 'em all!"

"'Show it, and then we'll believe it,'—Betsy said, 'not afore.'

"So Mike went and brought his hands full of great mellet apples, and begun to eat 'em up. 'There! look, now,'" he said, when he came to the red spot; "didn't I tell ye? You may eat 'em all of you want to. I don't."

"Not a child dared to put a tooth into an apple, for, sure's I'm alive, every single one had a fresh drop of blood in it, jest as Mike said."

"The young ones all went home and told the story; but no person believed a word on't till they went and examined them for themselves. Then everybody, from the minister down, said 'twas a special miracle. Maybe 'twas, cause the hand that planted the tree was out off by the blood-thirsty inenemy. Mike said he knew suthin' uncommon was the matter when he saw the red blowes in the spring, for the 'arly tree' always blossomed white as snow afore.

"Toward the last of October suthin' turned up and set all the town thinkin'—and talkin', too, for the matter of that. A reward of forty pounds was posted up for any information of Hank Kerner—a young German who left Philadelphy with an assortment of fancy goods the fall afore. The last time his friends heard from him he was travelling with his trunks in Eastern Connecticut. His person and dress were both described, and the above reward was to be paid for any news on him, dead or alive.

"Everybody that read the notice said straight off, 'That was the forrin peddler; but what had become of him was another thing.' Nobody liked to make a stir about it, whatever they might think. But when Mike read the notice with the others, and saw a great many searching eyes upon him, he said to himself, 'They'll hang me now, sure's fate, and git the forty pounds besides, which is a heap o' money. I never should a touched the feller, only I thought he was a cussed Frenchman—one o' the very same as knocked down the old man. If I could only manage, now, to git that forty pounds for poor old mother, and then tie the knot in my own halter, they might call Mike Rood half-witted as long as they have a mind to.'?"

"Revolving the matter in his own mind, Mike went home. That night, as the wind blew and howled round the old house, and his mother sat paring apples and stringing them up on strings to dry, he cut a leaf out of his father's account book, got down the lead inkstand, and sot down himself to write—and the most curious writin' it was you ever did see, I guess. It looked so the letters were every one copied off a tea chest; and yet, as the Widder Rood looked up from her work, now and then, to watch her only child, she had a feelin' as though he was kinder smart. Not a bit of the managin' and schemin' part of Mike's natur did he inherit from his mother, who was as mild as a May morning, and could be made to believe almost anything her friends wanted her to. Mike could lead her with a tow string—though never to do wrong, if she knew it, for there warn't a better meanin' woman, or one with more friends, in the whole town.

"'Look here, mother, now!' You just write your name down here,' Mike said, holding out a goose-quill with which he had been figuring for a long time. 'I've a'most forgot how it looks written, it's so long since I've seen it.'

And the woman sot down her dish of apples, right pleased to grant his request.

"'I declare,' said Mike, examinin' the really fair hand-writin', of you ain't the best writer of your age in town, mother.'

"The widder smiled upon him, pleased by his praise, and said, as she went again to her apples:

"'That's what your father used to say, Micah.'

"When he'd amused himself long enough with his writin', he folded up the paper and and put it in his pocket.

"'Got any arrant up street?' he then said.

"'Not to night,' his mother answered 'What makes you go out, Micah, when 'tis so cold and windy? The air feels as though we were a-goin' to git snow.?'

"'Left one of my 'cow-hides' at the shoemaker's this mornin', mother, and he promised to have it done by eight o'clock.'

"Then Micah went out, and set his face toward the town, talking to himself all the way as he went. 'Now,' says he, 'tis all fixed right, and mother'll git that forty pounds, as sure as my name is Mike Rood; for didn't they promise it for any information on him, dead or alive? And ain't she told them er they'll come and dig under her arly apple tree, the first on the right side 'o the house—and ask her no questions, they'll find what they're looking for—dead enough, I guess, too! I'm awful sorry I hurt the wrong feller; but it can't be helped now, and there's no use crying about it. Let me see. The post-rider will get my letter to Philadelphy in about a week, and by that time I'll git all mother's wood cut for the winter, and be ready to 'step out' afore they're here to sarch.'

"Poor Mike, like all boys, bad or good, foolish or witty, loved his mother; and if she'd only mistrusted what was in his mind all that week as he went round doing every thing he could find to do for her, her tears would have dropped for sorrow instead of joy. But the sorrow came soon enough to her poor, loving, broken heart, and the joy never came back at all after her boy was found dead on the arly apple tree—hung by his own hands—for that was the way Micah Rood died?"

The stranger thanked the widow for her story, and went away satisfied.

NOTE—The "Rood apple" is still a great favorite in many parts of New England; and the curious may yet find in every one the mysterious red drop which has given rise to many homely stories. In one of the small towns in New London county, Micah lived and died in the manner above described.

St. Nicholas Hotel,
BROADWAY,
NEW YORK.

WHEN COMPLETED, SIX YEARS ago, the St. Nicholas was quite as pronounced the most magnificent, convenient and thoroughly organized establishment of the kind in this continent. What it was then, it remains today—without a rival in completeness, and in the general elements of comfort and enjoyment. The Hotel has accommodations for 1,500 guests, including the complete suites of apartments, and six hundred servants can be constantly seated at the tables of its three spacious dining rooms, and nothing that contributes to render first class entertainment and social gratification of the travelling public has been omitted, and that art neglected in its practice by any of the early houses of the country. The liberal patronage derived from its magnitude, its superb appointments, and its homelike comforts and luxuries, has been enhanced every year by the unwearied exertions of the proprietors.

SPALDING'S PREPARED GLUE

Meets all emergencies, and no household can afford to be without it. It is always ready and up to the sticking point. There is no longer a necessity for dumping chairs, splintered veneers, headless dolls and broken cradles. It is just the article for couching, and all ornamental work, so popular with ladies of refinement and taste.

This admirable preparation is used cold, being chemically held in solution, and possesses all the valuable qualities of the best cabinet maker's glue. It may be used in the place of ordinary mucilage, being vastly more adhesive.

CAUTION TO INFRINGERS.

Patents issued in the United States, Nov. 5th, 1849. Reissued, Jan. 4th, 1854. Second Patent, March 4th, 1851. Patented also in Great Britain and the Canadas, June 5th 1851.

This improvement consists in making regulating valves to open with a rapidly increasing ratio of opening, by increasing the width of the opening made in the valve—or by increasing the opening motion of the ordinary valves in use—or by combining increased opening, (with increased) valve motion. My patent Valves and Governors are so arranged as to give the resistance to the piston's motion, (or restard of the engine,) just sufficient to give the valve just the exact amount of aperature necessary to counteract that resistance: and from the aperture, by the addition of equal amounts of resistance, notwithstanding that the action of the governor is continually decreasing in its effects.

Therefore re ers the action of valves combined with governors, as heretofore used. And as this effect can be produced by many different mechanical devices, (equivalents,) I shall not be particular in detail with my improvement; by which infringers have imposed upon the public, but shall request all persons interested, to examine carefully all alleged improvements in valves or governors, to see if the application of the principle herein first discovered and applied by me, is not involved in their arrangement—and thereby prevent a fraud upon the purchaser and the public, as well as the patentee, at present much annoyed by their piratical depredations. H. B. BRIGHTMAN, Agent, Milwaukee.

MONETARY.

FRIDAY P. M., September 7, 1860.

There was no special change in the state of our money market to-day. Grain operators experienced no difficulty in obtaining all the currency they needed, and we believe that first class 30 and 60 day paper coming from other sources, was not refused by any of the Bank's. Eastern Exchange was ¾ premium at the Banks, and on the street ¾@¼ less, and in good supply.

CHICAGO MONEY MARKET.

The money market to-day was again excited. The various banking interests of our city were pretty closely run for currency, and some of them resorted to the unusual method of throwing out checks which were drawn against checks on other banks. This caused considerable flurry among grain operators, and not a little annoyance; but before three o'clock these matters were properly adjusted, and the feeling towards the close was easier.

Eastern exchange was sold over the counters at the banks at ¾ ₱ cent. premium; but sales on the street were generally at ¾ ₱ cent. Yesterday afternoon and this morning a large amount of Eastern exchange was received from Milwaukee and sold on the street at ¾ ₱ cent. premium. In this way much of our usual supply of currency has been drawn from us.—Press & Tribune.

This is a very ready method of accounting for a close money market at Chicago, but it is without a shadow of truth, as the condition of our money market proves beyond question.

Operations in the wheat market were somewhat restricted during the forenoon by the firmness of holders. The early sales were at yesterday's closing prices, but later, when it became known that a large number of vessels had arrived, buyers advanced their views 1c, and took all they could get at 96c for No. 1 spring and 94c for No. 2 do in store. Towards the close of Change sellers were disposed to hold at another advance of 1c, but we heard of no transactions outside of the quotations above, and after the receipt of second despatches from New York, towards evening, prices nominally receded to the opening figures, closing offering but 95c for No. 1, and 93c for No. 2. Club and Extra ranged from 97c to $1.00—none, however, but the very choicest samples going outside of 99c. The sales of all descriptions reported amount to about 60,000 bushels, including one cargo on private terms.

There was a little more enquiry for flour, and we heard of sales of six hundred and fifty odd barrels at $4,75@4,90 for common to good spring extra, and $5@5,10 for fancy brands.

In coarse grains there was not much done, and no material change in prices.

A fresh north-east breeze brought in quite a fleet of vessels, and there was a decline of 2c in freights from the asking figures of yesterday, vessels being freely offered at 16c for wheat to Buffalo, and 23c to Cawego. Last evening the propeller Lucy was chartered at 17c for wheat to Buffalo, the Wabash Valley at 14c to Port Colborn, and the schooner D. L. Martin at 17c to Buffalo. Early to-day the schooner Rival was chartered at 23½c to Oswego. Several of the vessels that arrived during the day remain unengaged up to the present writing.

EXPORTS FROM NEW YORK.—The exports of flour from New York, for the week ending Wednesday last, were 56,726 bbls, (of which England took 35,000 bbls.,) and for the month about 237,000 bbls. The shipments of wheat for the week were 854,209 bus, (all but 5,000 bus to England,) and for the month 1,650,000 bus—and the prospects are that the exports of the present month will be larger still, depending on two contingencies, viz: the supply and the foreign news.

BREADSTUFFS GOING SOUTH.—From Cincinnati we are advised that the bulk of the flour and grain from that quarter will go South. From Tennessee the demand for wheat and flour is so great that the Nashville Railway is already taxed beyond its capacity, and the whole tonnage of the river is actively employed in carrying grain South.

CHICAGO MARKET, SEPTEMBER 6TH.—Receipts of flour and grain at Chicago, yesterday, and the sources of supply, will be seen by the following statement:

In reference to the market the Press & Tribune says:

The wheat market to-day was again buoyant, and prices advanced 2@4c over the closing quotations of yesterday. At the opening the feeling among operators was very quiet and sales were made at 94@96c for No. 2 spring, but as soon as the Eastern despatches were received, the market immediately became firm, and it steadily advanced to 98½c—closing very firm at that figure. About 125,000 bus were sold at 97@97½c for No. 1 spring; 94@98½c for No. 2 spring; at 91@96c for rejected. White wheat was scarce and wanted, with limited sales of No. 1 red at $1,05 in store.—The flour market was less active, but holders were firm, and there is no change to note in prices. About 1,000 barrels were sold, mostly for New York and Boston, at $4,30@5 for low grade to choice spring extras; $4 for good spring superfine.

The Corn market was very active to-day, and an advance of 1c was established. About 125,000 bus were sold, mostly to shippers, at 37½@38c for No. 1, and 36@36½c for No. 2—the market closing firm. Oats were steady at 29c afloat. Owing to a better shipping demand for Rye the market was firmer, with sales of 50c, 1 at 49@50c in store, and Rejected at 42c in store. Choice parcels of No. 1 barley were in good request at 60@61c on track. Highwines continue firm, Hides in good request and firm.

There was a fair trade in hay, and freights were firm. The rates by rail were: To Buffalo, 16c for wheat, and 17c by propeller.

ST. LOUIS MARKET, SEPTEMBER 4TH.—(From the Democrat:)

Flour—Market firm, but not active. Sales 600 bbls choice superfine at $5 delivered; 500 bbls city superfine on p. t.; the last of a lot of 1000 bbls city superfine sold last week at a fraction under $5, delivered to-day; 600 bags Mt. Vernon at $2,70, 340 bbls country, branded extra, at $5,37½@5,40; 100 bbls country choice superfine at $4,25; 170 bbls country, branded extra, at $6, and 50 bbls Mt. Vernon $5,00.

Wheat—Spring and club were in active request, and advanced 1@1c; but choice fall was dull, and 2@3c lower. Sales 250 sacks common spring at 88@88c; 500 do club at 90@93c; 1,000 do do prime at 94@91c; 1578 do club at 95c; 920 do do at 96@97c; 300 do do at 98c; 1547 do do at p. t.; 891 do fall mixed with rye at 93@93c; 673 do common fall at $1@1,05, 460 do fair and good do at $1,05@1,18; 300 do red at $1,14; 720 do choice fall, including white, at $1,20; 1200 do mostly choice fall p. t.

Corn—Market dull, and prices 1@2c lower. Sales 138 sacks mixed at 38c; 80 do mixed yellow at 39c; 984 do yellow at 40½@46c; 903 do mixed and yellow at 46@47c; 100 sacks mixed white at 47½c; 250 do do at 49c; 562 do white at 50c; 175 do do at 50c, delivered; 125 do do at 52c, delivered; 707 do do at 52@53c, and 886 mixed white p. t.

Oats—Market heavy; sales 359 sacks new at 31c, and 1241 do do at 32c, part delivered.

Barley—Market steady. Sales 80 sacks spring at 60c; 120 do do at 65c; 220 do do at 65c, including sacks.

Rye—Firm, with sales of 379 sacks at 60c, indifferent order; 289 do at 62½@63c; 200 do at 55c, including sacks, and 57 do at 5-c, sacks returned.

Pork and Lard—Nothing transpired.

Winona Grain Trade.—The Republican of Wednesday evening says:

The market for wheat opened this morning quite lively at 50c per bushel, but buyers held off for larger prices until along midday, when 53c was freely paid, and several sales of choice were effected at 54@55c. It was confidently expected by some of the sellers that 90c would be paid before night; yet, at the time of writing this, we have heard of no sales higher than the figures just quoted. The receipts to-day have been very considerable in number, exceeding 2,000 bushels, if we are correctly informed. All the wheat coming into this market is in prime condition, and will take rank in the Eastern markets among the very choicest brands.

Freights remain as previously quoted—9c to Milwaukee or Chicago, and 15c to St. Louis.

NEW YORK MARKET.

[By Telegraph.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 7—7 P. M.

FLOUR—5@10c better, with a limited demand both for export and home consumption; less active at the close, and holders a trifle more disposed to realize.—Sales 11,800 bbls at 5,60@5,65 for superfine state; 5,95@6,30 for extra do; 5,65@5,75 for superfine western; 5,90@6,20 for common to medium extra western; 6,15@6,80 for shipping brands extra round hoop Ohio, Canadian, four 10@12c better, with demand scarcely so active; sales of 1,500 bbls at 5,65@5,75 for superfine, and 6,00@7,50 for common to choice extra. Rye flour steady with small sales at 3,50@4,40 for common to choice super.

WHEAT—1@2 cents better, but at the close shippers were disposed to hold back, and the market was scarcely so firm. A large portion of the receipts are unsound and too soft for shipment. Sales—6500 bus white mixed at 1,15@1,16; 49,000 bus winter red western at 1,26@1,40; 99,000 bus sound and soft Ind. and O. at 1,19@1,40; 27,000 bus inferior to fair Chicago spring at 1,22@1,27; 18,000 bus sound winter red western at 1,32@1,34; 2,000 bus unsound white California at 1,10.

CORN—Opened firm and closed heavy and declining. Sales—65,000 bus at 65@70 for mixed western afloat and in store; 73 for western yellow.

OATS—Dull at 41@42 for western, Canadian and State.

MARINE ITEMS.

A STORM BREWING.

The wind blew freshly from the Northeast yesterday, the sky was overcast with heavy clouds, and the general appearance of things celestial indicated the approach of an old fashioned equinoctial blow. Three or four grain laden vessels, bound down from Chicago, ran into our harbor for shelter, and some that were about to sail from here, concluded to remain at their docks until the winds took a more favorable turn.

VESSELS FROM BELOW.

Quite a fleet of grain vessels from below arrived today, mostly all large first-class vessels, and some of them new comers at our wharves. We counted about a dozen, within sight of Walker's Point Bridge, that had arrived up to 4 o'clock, and several others that appeared to be coming in, when they had approached close to the harbor, doubtless getting an inkling of the number inside, changed their course and went on to Chicago.

SAILORS ON A STRIKE.

There was a "strike" amongst the sailors in port yesterday to the number of about one hundred. They claimed $1,50 a day, and we understand in some instances obtained it.

SMALL CRAFT IN THE GRAIN TRADE.

Amongst the clearance s from this port during the past two days was one vessel carrying 3,500 bushels of wheat, and another carrying 2,200 bushels. Within a few weeks quite a number of vessels have cleared, carrying from 4,000 to 7,000 bushels—some of them on their first voyage beyond the waters of Lake Michigan. One or two of these little craft have returned, having performed the voyage to Buffalo safely and in good time.

ANOTHER STEAMER FROM THE LAKE SUPERIOR TRADE.

The Detroit Advertiser is credibly informed the steamer North Star has been hauled off from the Lake Superior route for the present, and from what the Advertiser can learn it is not at all probable she will resume it the present fall.

The fact is the mining interests can not afford to pay such freights as vessels are now obtaining for carrying grain, and the result must be that nearly every vessel in the Lake Superior trade not bound by a season contract will turn this way.

PASSED DETROIT.

The following is a list of vessels that passed Detroit on Tuesday:

Up—Steamer Illinois; props. Chicago, Prairie State, Pittsburgh, Missouri; schooners Nightingale, Canary, Grace Murray, S. J. Holly, Conway, Sunshine, Whirlwind, L. B. Ferrier, H. S. Hyde, Fire Brand, Industry, Brandywine.

Down—Steamer Gazelle; props. Quincy, Cleveland, Racine, Rocket, Northern Light, Active, Augusta, Zephyr, Mt. Vernon, Elva, Spencer, Hamlet, Sylph.

Weather cloudy, with light N. E. breeze.

BARK SCULLER.

The Detroit Tribune of Wednesday says:

The Nucleus went into Clark's dry dock to-day, when it was ascertained that her leak was caused by an old auger hole, which, it is supposed, was bored as a vent hole in pouring in the cargo of wheat, and was not filled up. She will be ready for New York on Saturday.

ARRIVAL OF THE BRIG DESHLER FROM LIVERPOOL.

The Cleveland Plaindealer of Tuesday evening says:

The brig John C. Deshler, Capt. Chas. Gales, arrived from Liverpool at 5 o'clock this morning, bringing a miscellaneous cargo of iron, hardware, crockery, &c., to various persons in this city. She also discharged goods at Montreal and Ogdensburgh.

The Deshler left Liverpool on the 1st of July and reached Gaspe on the 18th of August. Head winds prevailed throughout the passage. A seaman was lost overboard on the 28th. He belonged to Quebec. The Deshler brings news of only one of the Cleveland vessels now in foreign waters—the D. C. Pierce, which vessel had gone to Lyon, Norfolk, England. The Deshler on more than one occasion proved her seaworthiness. She is a staunch craft.

Acknowledged to be the best boats for the trade upon the Upper Mississippi, being of lighter draft than any now running.

This Line connects with the United States Mail, and has not missed a daily connection since it was established, with the exception of one way, upon the La Crosse & Milwaukee Railroad.

Shippers from Milwaukee will see that this is the most reliable Line offering for Freights, as the lightness of draft enables them to make their trip without delay, while by any other route delays are unavoidable.

One of the above Boats will leave La Crosse every evening, on the arrival of the 1:35 P. M. train from Milwaukee, and connect at La Crosse in season to connect with the Express Passenger train, which leaves at 8 A. M.

GENERAL DEBILITY AND NERVOUSNESS.

Physicians are now prescribing it in the place of Paregoric—not having the deadening effect of that medicine to act on the brain.

The physicians in each city, town or village in the state are solicited to apply to the undersigned, who will supply them at cost in charge, to try before prescribing.

Dose—In infant six weeks old, one teaspoonful, diluted in two tablespoonsful of cold water, and given by the teaspoonful every five minutes until relief is effected.

Adults and children in proportion.

The want of pure Medical Brandy has long been felt in the country.

The properties contained in this Brandy are more strengthening than French Brandies. This the manufacturers claim are the merits, and challenge the world to disprove these facts.

THESE POPULAR BITTERS POSSESS all the nourishing and invigorating properties of pure Old Bourbon Whiskey, and are considered the most efficacious TONIC and STIMULANT, as well as the most agreeable STOMACHIC ever offered to the public. As a TONIC for the PEOPLE, Delicate Ladies, convalescent invalids, and all weakly people, they cannot be surpassed. In all cases of WEAKNESS or DEBILITY, they will give immediate relief, and impart a strong and healthy tone to the system. A trial will establish their merits over all other Tonics now in use. For LONG COMPLAINTS, BRONCHITIS, DYSPEPSIA, NERVOUS DISEASES AND LIVER COMPLAINTS, they are a sure remedy; and as a certain preventive of CHILLS AND FEVERS, Put up in Quart Bottles, in cases of one and two dozen, and for sale by Druggists and Grocers everywhere.
